	Statements
	Martina Navratilova was right to say that it is cheating for transgender women who were born male to compete in women's sports events	I would be happy to use mixed-sex toilets in restaurants	I would be happy to use the changing facilities in a sports club or swimming pool in which transgender people who had not had surgical intervention were admitted	I welcome the move to ensure that transgender people are more widely accepted in society	The movement towards transgender rights has gone too far	I don't feel able to express my views about transgender rights in public for fear of being attacked for being a bigot	Children should be encouraged from an early age to live out the gender they feel most comfortable with	I would be happy sharing a mixed sex hospital ward with a transgender woman who was born male
