METHODOLOGY

ComRes surveyed 2,016 British adults online between 6th and 8th September 2019. Data were weighted to be demographically representative of all GB adults. All questions were weighted by 2017 past vote recall and EU Referendum past vote. Voting Intention is also weighted by likelihood to vote. ComRes is a member of the British Polling Council and abides by its rules.

Summary
Base: All respondents

	Statements
	Conservative MPs who vote to force Boris Johnson to delay Brexit should be permitted to stand as Conservative candidates at the next Election	If the EU refuses to make any more concessions, the UK should leave the EU without a deal on 31 October 2019	Jeremy Corbyn is wrong to instruct his MPs to oppose Boris Johnson's request to have a General Election	Boris Johnson should make a pact with the Brexit Party to try and get enough MPs to secure a parliamentary majority for a no-deal Brexit	Irrespective of whether or not I voted to leave the EU, the 2016 Referendum result should be respected	I am fearful of the consequences of a no-deal Brexit for me and my family	Brexit should be delayed for a further three months to 31 January 2020	I don't really care whether or not, or how, the UK leaves the EU, I just want the uncertainty to be over

	Statements
	I would prefer to leave the EU with a deal than have Jeremy Corbyn as Prime Minister	I would prefer to have Jeremy Corbyn as Prime Minister than leave the EU with a deal	I would prefer to leave the EU without a deal than have Jeremy Corbyn as Prime Minister	I would prefer to have Jeremy Corbyn as Prime Minister than leave the EU without a deal	I would prefer to stay in the EU than have Jeremy Corbyn as Prime Minister	I would prefer to have Jeremy Corbyn as Prime Minister than stay in the EU	Brexit has shown that the British Constitution is out of date and needs urgent reform	Given that the Government promised, before it took place, to implement the 2016 Referendum result, it is fundamentally undemocratic for some MPs to now try and prevent the UK from leaving the EU	The economic cost of Brexit would be so high that the result should be set aside, even if many of those who voted to leave could feel that their democratic voice had been ignored.
